the beauty of the island. Cebu is home to sweet, juicy mangoes and Shangri-La Mactan wishes for guests and patrons to savor the tropical scent and taste of this local delight by way of limited edition chocolate-coated dried mangoes that'll remind them of life's sweet moments.

The chocolate-coated treats are up for grabs at the resort in a bid for local and international travelers to bring a piece of paradise home, and was made in partnership with one of the country's biggest dried mango manufacturers, R&M Preserves.

The chocolate-infused dried mangoes' packaging features illustrations by Cebuano visual artist and fashion designer Bree Esplanada, who emblemizes some of Cebu's inimitable cultural markers through detail-rich hand drawn illustrations.

A portion of the proceeds of the dried mangoes has been pledged to help in the completion of the construction of the Gilutungan Integrated School located in Gilutungan Island, Cordova, in partnership with the Department of Education, University of San Carlos, Municipality of Cordova and the Philippine Navy.

The school, home to nearly 500 elementary and high school students, is a 45-minute boat ride from the resort. Due to its location, it often faces problems pertaining to limited learning facilities/materials, electrical and water supply.

The chocolate-coated dried mangoes are available at the resort lobby, with prices starting at Php780.00 net per box.
